

Using the Bible Studies for Personal Study

Christians have different beliefs about the Bible, but all believe it is the inspired Word of God and revere it as the core of our faith. But how much of the Bible do we really understand? Most of us would probably answer that our knowledge of the Bible is pretty shallow.

Each Bible Study consists of a Bible reading assignment and a number of thought-provoking questions about the assignment. The questions are intended to challenge us to think and pray about the topic and to lead us to a deeper, more mature understanding of the Bible. The Bible Studies are nonsectarian, and are suitable for use by all Christians.

At LongHillBC.org, you can complete the Bible study lessons online or print them for offline use:

Personal study online

First, select a lesson from the menu and read the reading assignment shown. You can click on the Bible passages to read the passage online. (If you have a program to eliminate pop-up ads, you may have to temporarily disable it.) Then answer each question in the text box provided below the question.

Saving: If you want to continue working on the lesson later, save your answers by clicking the Save button near the top of the page as often as you wish, and before you leave the lesson page. When you come back to the same lesson later, your most recently saved answers will be restored and you can continue where you left off.

Our Answers: After you have answered all the questions, you can click the Our Answers button for a printer-friendly page with our suggested answers. (For greatest personal benefit, don't look at our answers until you have answered all the questions yourself.)

Printing: To keep a printed copy of your completed Bible Study lesson, with your answers, click the Your Answers button for a printer-friendly view. You can print the page using the "Print" command from the "File" menu on your Web browser.

Personal study offline

Printing: First, Select a lesson from the menu. Then click the Questions Only button for a printer-friendly view. You can print the page using the "Print" command from the "File" menu on your Web browser.

Next, read the reading assignment. We suggest a modern English translation of the Bible for best understanding. Then write your answer to each question in the space provided below the question on your printed page.

Our Answers: After you have answered all the questions, you can come back to the lesson on the Website and click the Our Answers button to see our suggested answers to some of the questions. (For greatest personal benefit, don't look at our answers until you have answered all the questions yourself.)
